Dear Ms. deBeau:

CELA

I received Mr. Jordan's May 19 memorandum in yesterday's mail and do not require an attorney. Since I was first elected in 1998, the only campaign issues I have ever had were of a clerical nature.

I understand the author of the accompanying May 3 memo is a Democratic Party chair so it is apparent to me this is a political stunt. Mr. Jordan's memo says the this matter is confidential and yet I read about it last week on Facebook where my name was disclosed. It appears the Democratic Party chair achieved her purpose and I am sure I will see this allegation during my 2018 re-election campaign.

As respects Millar for State Senate, please feel free to check my disclosures and you will see I give to and receive from many of my colleagues. I recently gave to one Republican candidate in a Congressional special election and gave to another Republican candidate in the runoff Congressional special election (6th district of GA).

My typical fundraising efforts via letters are after session (March) and in September. In the accusatory memo Millar for State Senate gave to candidate Carter on May 23, 2013 after he launched his campaign Almost one year later Millar for State Senate received a Carter donation (April 5, 2014) after I assume he received my after session fundraising letter.

The September contribution tracks my typical fundraising request and probably knowing he had competition I donated to his campaign.

I respectfully request that when you conclude this inquiry and I am absolved of any nefarious action that you send me a memo to that effect. When the allegation appears next year then I will use your document to refute this spurious charge.
